Editors must make unbiased decisions without regard to race, gender, religious belief, ethnic origin, citizenship, or political philosophy of the authors.

2. Authorship and Contribution

Authorship should be limited to individuals who have made substantial contributions to the conception, design, execution, or interpretation of the reported study. All co-authors must approve the final version of the manuscript prior to submission.

Authors are required to submit only original works. Plagiarism in any form, including self-plagiarism or data fabrication, is strictly prohibited. All manuscripts will be checked using plagiarism detection software prior to acceptance.

4. Data Accuracy and Reproducibility

Authors must present their results clearly, honestly, and without fabrication, falsification, or inappropriate data manipulation. All sources of data used must be clearly cited, and sufficient details must be provided for reproducibility.

5. Conflicts of Interest

All authors, reviewers, and editors must disclose any financial or personal relationships that could inappropriately influence (bias) their work. Failure to disclose relevant conflicts may lead to retraction of the published article.
